

LOST PET RESOURCES

LOST YOUR PET.....? Check with your local police district, the supermarket bulletin board and lost/found ads in your local newspaper. The following is a LIMITED list of animal shelters to search for your lost pet. Generally, you must go to these places in person because descriptions over the telephone may lose accuracy. Call prior to leaving for times open to the public. Don't forget.....contact your local police department for impoundment procedures.

LOST PET RESOURCES

If you've lost your pet, here are a few things you can do:

- Make a flier with a clear picture of your pet, list the pet's description, where the pet was last seen and your contact information. Do not put your name on the flier, a phone number is sufficient. Offer a reward - do not list the amount.
- Post the fliers in the area he was lost, local vets, grocery stores, groomers, trainers and pet stores.
- Walk the area he was last seen and ask people if they have seen him and if they would keep look out for him. Knock on doors. Give out your fliers.
- Call or visit vets in the area. If he was hurt, someone may have brought him in.
- Call and visit animal shelters and animal control. Do not confine your search to Chicago shelters. Some people will only turn lost animals in to "no kill" shelters.
- If your dog is a purebred, check with local breed rescue.
- Put an ad in the local paper.
- If someone contacts you claiming to have found your pet, arrange to meet with them and take someone with you.
